$1000/MONTH
FOR EVERY AMERICAN ADULT

If you have the suspicion that Americans are getting less reasonable, less rational, less optimistic and more hostile to other Americans, we almost certainly are due to the fact that pervasive financial insecurity is the new norm”

“Millions go uncompensated for the work they do. Parenting, teaching and caregiving are treated as adding little to no value by the market.

We must change how we measure value in our society and expand the definition of work”

“The most direct way for the government to improve our life is to send you a check for $1,000 every month and let you spend it in whatever way will benefit you the most”

“Our current emphasis on corporate profits isn't working for the vast majority of Americans. We need to move to a new form of capitalism that's geared towards maximizing human well-being and fulfillment”
