FOUND!!

Found my faith in Humanity again when I learned about Andrew Yang. A human who cares more about us Americans than his own self-image and can heal our anxiety and isolation. He has a clear plan to save us from a future of emptiness and desperation. Most importantly he has a heart that is brave enough to lead us through the stormy times ahead. Depression is increasing and most jobs do not pay enough to cover an unexpected illness or injury. Economic studies agree, our $20 Trillion dollar economy can afford to pay every US citizen $1000 per month without causing inflation and Americans are responsible enough to use the help wisely. If you have been looking for faith in humanity as well, find it at www.yang2020.com or google the name <code>Andrew Yang</code>.